

sallytudor.com

PUBLISHER'S CATALOGUE

February 2025

The Canterbury Tales Vol 1-2

OUT NOW IN PAPERBACK

JUST RELEASED!

Contains Marshall: A Christmas Tale and Dulcie
AND an EXCLUSIVE steamy short novella— NOT AVAILABLE ELSEWHERE!

ROSIE: THE PARAMEDIC'S TALE

Rosie Lancaster's life is all about saving others, until rugged mountain man John Draper steals her breath away.
Their instant connection blazes hotter than the Carolina summer, but their twelve-year age gap threatens to snuff out the flame.
As Rosie chases her dream of becoming a doctor and John grapples with his past, they discover a passion that defies logic.
But when John's career pulls him away, they must decide: Is their love worth risking everything, or are some mountains too steep to climb?
In Canterbury Falls, where small-town gossip meets Appalachian adventure, Rosie and John learn that true love knows no age - and that sometimes, the most unexpected connections lead to the deepest bonds of all.

HEA guaranteed!

Buy it on Amazon

Celia: The Nanny's Tale
The Canterbury Tales #4
Sally Tudor

When 22-year-old Celia takes a job as a nanny in small-town Canterbury Falls, she never expects to fall for her brooding, handsome employer.

Tom Browning, a 33-year-old widowed crime novelist, is equally blindsided by his attraction to the vibrant young woman caring for his daughter.

As January descends on their small town, the heat between them becomes undeniable.

But with an age gap and their own fears standing in the way, Celia and Tom must decide if their instant connection is worth risking it all.

In this sizzling tale of unexpected love, they'll discover that sometimes the most passionate romances are the ones that break all the rules.

Celia is a short, contemporary, steamy, single dad/nanny, age-gap, small-town romance. You can read it in about an hour-and-a-half or so. HEA guaranteed!

Sasha: The Surgeon's Tale

The Canterbury Tales #3

Sally Tudor

Dr. Sasha Tate's carefully constructed life shatters when she collides with rugged photographer Dominic Sloane in sleepy Canterbury Falls.

One impulsive decision catapults her into a passionate two-day adventure in the Appalachians, igniting desires she thought long buried.

As Easter approaches, Sasha must choose between her prestigious Boston career and the intoxicating promise of a life reimagined with Dominic.

In a town where everyone knows your business, can two opposites forge a future, or will their differences tear them apart?

Perfect for fans of small-town romance and anyone who believes that love will always win through.

Sasha is a short, contemporary, steamy, opposites-attract romance. You can read it in about an hour or so. HEA guaranteed!

Dulcie: A Steamy Romance Short Story

The Canterbury Tales #2

Sally Tudor

When city girl Dulcie Gordon's car breaks down in Canterbury Falls, she never expects to fall for Isaac Nolan, the ruggedly handsome auto shop owner with walls around his heart.

Forced to share his home, their instant attraction ignites into a passionate battle of wills.

As Christmas approaches, Dulcie must choose between her big-city dreams and the unexpected love she's found in this charming small town.

Can Isaac let down his guard and risk it all for a chance at happiness?

In this sizzling enemies-to-lovers romance, Dulcie and Isaac discover that true power lies in the courage to be vulnerable and the strength to choose love over ambition.

Perfect for fans of small-town romance and anyone who believes that love will always win through.

Dulcie is a short, steamy, contemporary, enemies-to-lovers romance. You can read it in about an hour or so. HEA guaranteed!

Marshall: A Christmas Tale

The Canterbury Tales #1

Sally Tudor

Nora Merritt's wild imagination thrives in her graphic novels, but real life? Well, that's a different story. Enter high-school coach, Marshall Kale, Canterbury Falls' golden boy with a chip on his shoulder.

When a Christmas charity event forces these polar opposites together, sparks fly—and not the good kind.

As Nora battles her insecurities and Marshall grapples with his guarded heart, an undeniable attraction simmers beneath their heated exchanges.

With their own demons to face, can these reluctant partners-in-charity find the courage to turn their differences into a Christmas love story for the ages

Perfect for fans of small-town, steamy romance and anyone who believes that love will always win through.

Marshall: A Christmas Tale is a short, contemporary, steamy, enemies-to-lovers romance. You can read it in about an hour-and-a-half or so. HEA guaranteed!

A Christmas Cotswolds Affair

Polly MacDuff

When New York book-designer Phoebe Newton's car skids off a snowy English road, she never expects her rescuer to be Tom Hardy, a ruggedly handsome farmer with a heart as vast as his fields. Stranded until Christmas, Phoebe finds herself drawn into the cozy warmth of farm life - and the strong arms of a man who awakens feelings she thought were long buried.

As snowflakes fall and festive lights twinkle, Phoebe and Tom's connection deepens. But with her return to New York looming and shadows from the past threatening their budding romance, can they trust in the magic of a Cotswold Christmas to write their own love story?

Steamy, and sprinkled with holiday cheer in cozy English pubs, this is the perfect read for those who believe love can bloom in the most unexpected places. Curl up with a cup of cocoa and lose yourself in this enchanting tale of trust, unexpected chances, and the power of Christmas magic.

A Christmas Cotswold Affair is a short, contemporary, steamy romance. You can read it in about an hour-and-a-half or so. HEA guaranteed!

A Christmas Mountain Affair

Megan Laidlaw

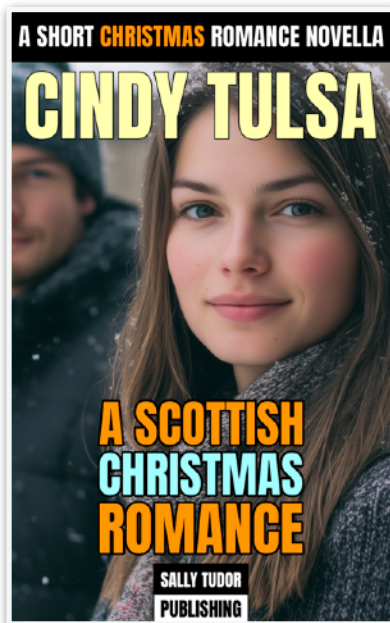

When ambitious photographer Monica King seeks the perfect shot on Christmas Mountain, she never expects to capture the heart of a reclusive mountain man.

Trapped by a snowstorm in Otto Vance's secluded cabin, Monica discovers there's more to the gruff ex-tech mogul than meets the eye.

As the temperature drops outside, the heat between them rises.

But when the storm clears, will their newfound connection survive the pressures of the outside world?

A Christmas Mountain Affair is a short, contemporary, forced proximity, steamy romance. You can read it in about an hour-and-a-half or so. HEA guaranteed!

A Scottish Christmas Romance

Cindy Tulsa

When American Charlotte Marshall finds herself robbed and alone in London, just days before Christmas, she never imagines it will lead her to love in the Scottish Highlands.

Rescued by the handsome writer Hamish Ramsey, Charlotte is whisked away to the charming town of Inverness, where snow-capped mountains, great whisky and warm Highland hospitality await.

Can these two wounded souls learn to trust again and find love in time for Christmas? Or will the magic of the Highlands be just another fleeting dream?

Curl up with this heartwarming tale of sizzling chemistry, and the healing power of love in the most unexpected places.

A Scottish Christmas Romance is a short, sweet, contemporary, romance. You can read it in about an hour-and-a-half or so. HEA guaranteed!

Dreams Come True At Christmas Tully Fisher

In the charming town of March Meadow, schoolteacher Heather Jennings has her hands full organizing the annual children's Christmas party.

Still nursing a broken heart, the last thing she needs is a distraction - especially one that arrives in the form of ruggedly handsome fire-fighter, Hugh Brooks, during a routine safety inspection.

As Christmas approaches and their connection deepens, a crisis threatens the holiday celebration. With the party in jeopardy and Heather's ex-boyfriend suddenly back in the picture, Hugh must decide if he's ready to step into some very big boots - as the man who could heal Heather's heart.

Can the magic of the season help these two wounded souls find their way to each other? Or will past hurts and an eight-year age gap keep them from their chance at a Christmas miracle?

Dreams Come True At Christmas is a short, contemporary, romance. You can read it in about an hour-and-a-half or so. HEA guaranteed!

Christmas Love In Aspen

Eliza Hickton

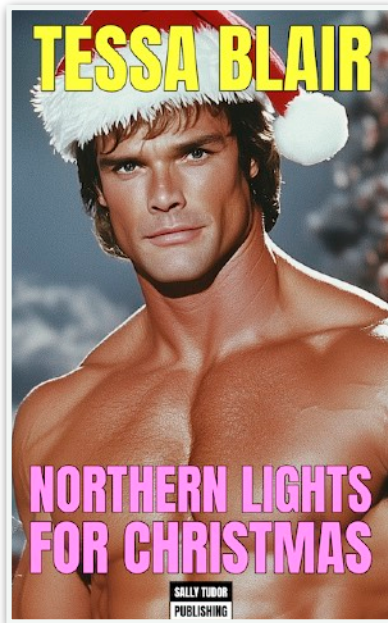

It's close to Christmas and an avalanche strands nurse Poppy Ferguson and wealthy businessman Adrian Irvine in Aspen's snowed-in hospital.

Poppy, still healing from a toxic relationship, has sworn off romance. Adrian's only in town for a ski trip before a career-defining deal. But as they work together to save lives during the crisis, their undeniable chemistry snowballs into something neither can ignore.

With resources dwindling and tensions rising, Poppy and Adrian must confront not only the challenges of the avalanche but also their own fears and desires. As the snow melts, will their newfound connection survive the thaw?

Set against the breathtaking backdrop of Aspen's winter wonderland, this is a heartwarming tale of unexpected romance, personal growth, and the power of community. This touching story proves that sometimes, it takes a natural disaster to uncover the most natural love of all.

Christmas Love In Aspen is a short, contemporary, romance. You can read it in about an hour-and-a-half or so. HEA guaranteed!

Northern Lights For Christmas

Tessa Blair

When ambitious geographer Lara Jennings arrives in Reykjavik, Iceland days before Christmas, she's focused on one thing: proving herself in the world of academia. The last thing she needs is a distraction - especially one in the form of Connor Whitman, a charming Irish interpreter with secrets of his own.

But Iceland has other plans. Lara finds her carefully-constructed walls beginning to thaw, and discovers there might be more to life than climbing the greasy pole.

Set against the dramatic backdrop of Iceland's winter landscape, where the Northern Lights dance and ancient legends come alive, this is a story about two people learning that sometimes the greatest discoveries aren't made in textbooks, but in the heart.

Perfect for fans of forced proximity romance and anyone who believes that love, like Iceland itself, can be both fierce and beautiful.

Northern Lights for Christmas is a short, contemporary, romance. You can read it in about an hour-and-a-half or so. HEA guaranteed!